

An Unknown Soldier's Grave.

Perhaps the silent sleeper here,
Was an old friend of childhood days;
His fallen on the battle field,
Brave, noble, and their lives did yield;
Of the Confederate band,
Who tried to save his Southern land;
Both sides avowed him right and left,
For native lands and homes to fight.
Some were spared to return unhurt,
Others captured, maimed, or hurt;
Before the cruel war did end,
A soldier here his life did end.
What aching hearts have looked in vain
For this lost hero's return again;
Some one's darling son, a father's pride,
A father, son, or brother died.
Their history, their names to tell,
Save on the battle ground he fell;
Beside the unknown soldiers graves,
With wreaths of flowers and bouquets,
Perhaps our own kindred maybe,
Or, if he's of the enemy,
'Tis well to strew some flowers there,
For the unknown graves kindly care.
Logan, Ohio. M.

Cedar Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Oldfield are visiting friends in the West.

G. W. Gordon of Starr, was visiting friends here last Sunday.

Mr. Bert Green of Bloomingville, called on Onie Simms last Sunday.

Marion Kitchen is in the employ of H. H. Gordon.

There was an Alliance meeting held in this vicinity last Monday night.

Squire Devore made a business trip to Logan last Saturday.

Walter Strawn made a business trip to H. H. Gordon's last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Brown were the guests of Minnie Gordon last Saturday.

Andrew Devore, Jr., made a trip to Mr. Shaw's last Saturday night.

Mrs. Rose, who has been on the sick list, is better.

The farmers of this neighborhood, are getting ready to sow wheat.

Abner Linn and family were the guests of H. A. Gordon last Sunday.

W. M. Kitchen made a flying trip to Logan last Saturday.

There will be a candy party at H. H. Gordon's next Tuesday night. We want to have a good time. Come one, come all.

Mrs. Sheik of Allen county, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Simms, of this place.

Andrew Devore contemplates spending the evenings this fall and winter hunting down the wild animals, such as raccoons and opossums. Andy will go the first damp evening.

There was a concert at South Bloomingville last Saturday night. A good time was reported.

Will Hamilton started Sunday evening to hunt a housekeeper.

Salt Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allison met with a sad accident on last Saturday. While on their way from Laurelville to Bloomingville in which Mr. Allison lost his life. Just after crossing the ford near Haynes Postoffice, their horse took fright and ran away throwing the occupants of the vehicle to the ground with great force. Mr. Allison was so crushed and bruised that he never regained consciousness, but died from the effect of his injuries on the following Tuesday morning at 5 o'clock. Mrs. Allison received some slight bruises about the face and head, but nothing of a serious nature.

Mr. James Morrison, one of our most esteemed citizens, is lying dangerously ill with typhoid fever. His many friends hope for his recovery, but have little encouragement.

Samuel Fetherolf is dangerously ill at this writing and almost without a hope of recovery.

SILENT FRIEND.

Sabbath, Sept. 27, the Union Sabbath School of Lebanon M. E. church, held a celebration in Esq. Darby's sugar camp near the site of Eagle Mills and was joined by schools from Hocking and Ross counties. There were about 2,500 persons present and music was furnished for the occasion by the Alleville and Clover Leaf Brass Bands. The whole program was well executed and reflects honor upon the management.

September has been the hottest and driest month of the season.

The Spencer and Karshner school district have petitioned the Board of Education for special district and have been rejected. And we learn that they will appeal the case to the Probate Court. Their argument for it is that their land is the richest and most valuable and they have one third of the valuation of the township to pay tax on, which is true, but they only pay on school tax 3 1/2 mills. They say they have had to pay tax to keep up among the poorer districts. Yes, and so has the State of Ohio and the laws of our State presume to give a free education to the rich and poor alike. We think it should be a source of pride to our neighbors to be able to spare some funds to so good a cause as educating the poor.

The People's Party will do but little in this part of Hocking.

Squire Robinson has had some little family broils to settle recently.

A firm from McArthur has been selling fertilizing goods to the farmers that is claimed not to be the goods the farmers signed for and that the goods have no analysis in this State, and therefore has no right to sell in this State. There is much dissatisfaction expressed.

Lawrence Hughes, of this place, a former resident of Laurel township, died at the residence of Monroe Thomas, Sept. 18th, from heart failure. He was an honest farmer and had amassed some property. His remains were taken to Gibsonville cemetery by Martin Goss, the undertaker, for interment.

A new postoffice has been granted at the Poling grocery stand, and has been called Apple Postoffice. The petition was gotten up and presented by B. H. Stevenson.

On No.

Possumville.

The farmers of our vicinity are busy seeding and cutting corn.

The Farmer's Alliance party is holding meetings at the west end of the township, for the purpose of getting material to build up their party. They have had but little success.

One day last week a fight took place between two men, residents of Pine Creek. Their names I will not mention. There were no dangerous wounds inflicted on either party.

The Democrats of this neighborhood and the adjoining neighborhood appear to be standing firmly for the November fight.

A Boy At Home.

Gibsonville.

Farmers in general are busy cutting their corn and seeding.

W. O. Whiteriff, Col. Rempel's private secretary, spent Sunday at home with his parents.

Robert Moore is having an addition made to his house, which greatly improves it in appearance.

Dr. J. F. Miller is kept very busy now in the saddle.

We noticed the genial face of Robert Gordon in our town on last Saturday. Mr. Gordon has been on the sick list for the last six months, but we are glad to see him out once more.

George Kelech purchased and moved to his father's farm a traction engine and saw-mill. He is now ready to do work for the public.

J. L. Donnelly is having his residence overhauled and repaired.

It's very dry and loafers are scarce. All the cry is, "I wish it would rain."

Naming the Baby.

In some countries curious customs prevail in regard to selecting a name for the baby.

A Hindoo baby is named when it is twelve days old, and usually by the mother. Sometimes the father wishes for another name than that selected by the mother; in that case two lamps are placed over the names, and the name over which the lamps burn the brightest is the one given to the child.

In an Egyptian family the parents choose a name for their baby by lighting three wax candles; to each of these they give a name, one of three always belonging to some deified personage. The candle that burns the longest bestows the name upon the baby.

The Mohammedans sometimes write desirable names on five slips of paper, and these they place in the Koran. The name upon the first slip drawn out is given to the child.

The children of the Ainos, a people living in northern Japan, do not receive their names until they are five years old. It is the father who then chooses the name by which the child is afterwards called.

The Chinese give their boy babies a name in addition to their surnames, and they must call themselves by these names until they are twenty years old. At that age the father gives his son a new name.

The Chinese care so little for their girl babies that they do not give them a baby name, but just call them Number One, Number Two, Number Three, according to their birth.

Boys are thought so much more of in China than girls are that if you ask a Chinese father who has a boy and a girl how many children he has, he will always reply, "Only one child."

German parents sometimes change the name of their baby if it is ill; and the Japanese are said to change the name of a child four times.

Corsets have filled more graves than whiskey, says Mrs. Willard. So it seems women kill themselves by getting tight, as well as men.

Her Mother Knew.

Mother—And so you engaged yourself to that young man at Idle wild Springs, did you?

Daughter (sheepishly)—Yes, ma, I promised to become his wife.

"It was on a beautiful moonlight evening in June."

"Why, yes, ma; how did you know?"

"And the band was playing a delightful waltz by Strauss."

"Why, yes. Who told you?"

"And you two were in the arbor on the lawn."

"Yes."

"And the fountain sparkled in the moonlight, and made music which seemed like a fairy echo to the sweet melody which floated out from the distant orchestra."

"Yes, How—"

"And the lake with its fleet of pretty boats gliding about the softly illuminated waters seemed like a bit of lovely Venice dreaming at your feet."

"Yes, yes. But how did you know all this?"

"I knew it must have been under some such combination of circumstances that he proposed, or you would never have said 'yes' to such an addelepaten nincempeop as that."

Ohio M. E. Conference Appointments.

The Ohio M. E. Conference at Zanesville last week made the following assignment of ministers for the Lancaster District:

Prior; Shawnee, J. W. Rogers; Somerset, William Holcomb; South Bloomfield, E. H. Binkley; South Perry, W. H. Phenice; Sugar Grove, A. R. Neal; Swan, W. E. Prior; Tartleton, J. S. Postle; West Union, A. R. Miller; New Plymouth, J. E. Gordon.

"Do you know, I always think of the hog as belonging to the vegetable kingdom."

"Why so?"

"Oh, because he grows from the root."

Mrs. Grabb (hostess)—Your little son does not appear to have much appetite.

Mrs. Gadd—No, he's quite delicate.

Mrs. Grabb—Can't you think of anything you would like, my little man?

Little Man—No'm. You see mom made me eat a whole lot before we started, so I wouldn't make a pig of myself.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits.

A Remedy for the Grippe
A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the grippe is Kemp's Balsam, which is especially adapted to diseases of the throat and lungs. Do not wait for the first symptoms of the disease, but get a bottle and keep it on hand for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia.
